Concept Note

Teachers, students, curriculum and educational institutions are the direct agents in the process of education. Quantitative and qualitative education can only be improved through the efforts of teachers. It is truly said that 'future development of a nation lies in the hands of good teachers'. What we become in life depends on the good education given by our teachers. Teachers are the sculptures of human behaviour. However, COVID-19- the pandemic drama has changed the role of teachers and educational institutions dramatically. The world will be a different place in the post COVID-19 period. This pandemic clearly signifies the fact that time has come to change the overall systems and human behaviours. The role of teachers and educational institutions need to be redefined.
